Introduction

With the boom of Cryptocurrencies block chain technology ("blockchain"), new opportunities are presented in the financial system. The Cryptocurrency market currently amounts to more than 500 billion dollars, which is an amazing amount. But unlike the traditional capital markets—$500 billion is a small figure. Soon, money from the traditional economy will flow in cryptocurrency for speculative purposes or to obtain capital gains, or simply to support projects built on decentralized platforms. Investors are not going to miss this great opportunity. Millennium USA, LLC takes what works in the traditional financial system and eliminates what does not work, and at the same time offers the best opportunity to enter the Cryptocurrencies sales market in a professional way. The Cryptocurrency market is currently not as developed as the old world of financial markets, and that is why there are still many opportunities for investors seeking great performance, not achieved in traditional markets. According to the digital currency market progresses and grows, more professionals will enter the market. The sector is now in a good position to continue to strengthen and grow.

What is Millennium USA and MUSA Coin?

Millennium USA is an American company that was formed to guide people in the new age of digital currencies, which is transforming the global economy. At the same time, Millennium USA has its own Cryptocurrency, MUSA Coin. MUSA Coin is a Cryptocurrency that is backed by a commercial traffic robot that aspires to be available for the big, medium and small investor. Like Bitcoin, MUSA Coin is based on open-source Blockchain technology for secure, transparent, fast and fluid transactions. The core of Millennium USA (MUSA Coin) is a premier programming in automated trading capable of generating earnings on the average in Cryptocurrency. Once you purchase tokens from Millennium USA (MUSA Coin), the investment behaves as an asset of interest: It has value over time and can be negotiated on the stock exchanges. In the future you can use it for pure financial transactions. We use our extensive knowledge in blockchain technology of Cryptocurrency and to successfully develop investment strategies. Our goal is to generate commercial benefits for our customers, minimizing the risk. Our bot has successfully marketed with ADO since 2014.

The problem
The algorithmic and High frequency trade (HFT) used by commercial banks and hedge funds have never been accessible to small investors. The entry barrier for this technology is huge. Most people have been trying to invest in cryptocurrency by their own means, but very few of them succeed because the Cryptocurrency market is extremely volatile and unpredictable.

To be a good trader you need years of experience, and having the right attitude even with that, frankly it's a lot of stress for trade on your own. In fact, 90% of investors lose money by investing in themselves, using manual methods. Even people who are not commercial but want to cover their positions against volatility do not have many options. More than 80% of the total volume of trade in the traditional financial market (Wall Street) is made by bots of algorithmic (HFT High-Frequency trading). That number is only 20% in the Cryptocurrency market which makes it the perfect time to enter this market, since it is not so crowded, and it makes it easier to find opportunities in the market to make money.

The solution

In contrast to other hedge funds, crypto or similar funds, the Millennium USA platform is open to all, and the entry barrier is low ($1.258 USD). Your trading is based on our algorithmic trading robot powered by artificial intelligence. The trading system has more than 4 years of research and development and is now open to retail customers. The investment strategies used by the Millennium USA trading Bot are:

- Arbitration
- Market creation
- Prediction Trade

By providing matching liquidity and requests, Millennium USA is increasing market efficiency and the connection between Cryptocurrencies. Millennium USA will use a combination of active strategies such as leveraged operations, algorithmic schemas, and blockchain token investment from initial coin offering companies (ICO). These strategies will help Millennium USA overcome Bitcoin with the lowest volatility. The robot only does short-term operations, and all operations are automated and are produced daily from milliseconds to hours.
